

Employer beware!

As a valued client of this practice, we want to make you aware of Sarginsons, Hughes and Masser's expertise in the area of employment law.

In these difficult times, if you are thinking of cutting staff costs, there are many pit falls.

Thousands of employers have learned this the hard way.

In many cases they are having to pay tens of thousands of pounds in compensation and fees just because they did not seek advice and follow the correct procedures. This is in addition to months of internal case preparation and costly legal defence.

The cost of a simple oversight would far outweigh the costs of correctly executed procedures with which we can assist.

For an initial consultation and a helpful, friendly service, contact Chris Bailey on 024 7655 3181 or email: cbailey@sarginsons-solicitors.co.uk.

If you prefer, please complete your details in the space below and send the form to us. We will then contact you.
